It can pay to delay

Interested in delaying Social Security¹
but retiring on your schedule?

F&G Flex AccumulatorTM

Fixed Indexed Annuity

By drawing penalty-free income from F&G Flex Accumulator™ Fixed Indexed Annuity, you could increase your Social Security payments for life

If you want to retire on your schedule, not the government's, F&G may be able to help.

If you can delay taking Social Security at least until you reach full retirement age, you can avoid a payment reduction. Wait a few years more, and you can enhance your annual Social Security payout even further.

How? That's where Flex Accumulator comes in.

How Flex Accumulator can help you increase your Social Security checks

Simply replace the retirement income you would have drawn from Social Security with penalty-free withdrawals from Flex Accumulator to buy yourself as many additional years as you need.

Penalty-free withdrawals are available immediately and based on your initial premium. You can take them on your schedule and know they'll remain level as long as your account value stays above that amount.

Your remaining balance when you reach your Social Security goal can continue to grow or be converted into a supplemental income stream you can't outlive.

How the Social Security math works out

Let's assume you were born in November 1958 and just turned 62. That makes you eligible for early retirement, according to the Social Security Administration.

Start Social Security now, and you'll sacrifice 28.3% of every Social Security check as long as you live.

Wait until full retirement age², get that much more for life. And you could earn yourself approximately 8% more each year beyond full retirement age that you wait, up to age 70.

² Full retirement varies based on when you were born. Until 1954, it's 66 years old. Born from 1955 to 1964, it increases in two-month increments until reaching 67. Visit SSA.gov for details on your specific situation.

Worth the wait?

Scenario 1 – Social Security now

$14,340	$14,340	$14,340	$14,340	$14,340	$14,340	$14,340	$14,340	$14,340
Age 62	63	64	65	66 and 8 mos	67	68	69	70+

Scenario 2 – Wait for full retirement age

Up to $20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000
Age 62	63	64	65	66 and 8 mos	67	68	69	70+

Scenario 3 – Max out Social Security

Up to $20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$26,400
Age 62	63	64	65	66 and 8 mos	67	68	69	70+

Assumptions: Born November 1958, just reached early retirement age. Single earner, never married. Placed $200,000 in premium in F&G Flex Accumulator at age 62 or earlier, allowing for up to 10% in penalty-free withdrawals annually. Withdrawals beyond 10% may be subject to a Market Value Adjustment (MVA) and surrender charges. Data source: <https://www.ssa.gov/pubs/EN-05-10035.pdf>

You are purchasing a fixed deferred indexed annuity contract that provides minimum guaranteed surrender values. You should understand how the minimum guaranteed surrender values are determined and the product features used to determine the values. Even though contract values may be affected by external indices, the contract annuity is not an investment in the stock market and does not participate in any stock, bond or equity investments.

The annuity interest rate guarantee period may only be characterized as having an "interest rate guarantee period of 10 years" in a manner that does not detract from the fact that any annuity is still considered a long-term vehicle of help with retirement income needs.

Surrender charges and market value adjustment may apply to partial and full surrenders. Surrenders may be taxable and may be subject to penalties prior to age 59½.

The examples provided are hypothetical, non-guaranteed and are not an indication of past or future performance.

Information provided regarding tax or estate planning should not be considered tax or legal advice. Consult your own tax professional or attorney regarding your unique situation.

This document is not a legal contract. For the exact terms and conditions, please refer to the contract.

No bank guarantee.	Not FDIC/NCUA/NCUSIF insured.	May lose value if surrendered early.
